MISTAKES YOU MUST AVOID

YOUR PRINTER USES TRI-COLOR CARTRIDGES:

If you've purchased a cheap printer, there's a good possibility that your printer employs a tri-color cartridge to manage color prints. A tri-color cartridge features all 3 colors (yellow, magenta and cyan) in the same cartridge and they're for some users as they only have to worry of one color cartridge. However, when one of the colours in a tri-color cartridge runs out, you will require to replace the whole cartridge in place of replacing a single color. These replacement costs can add up fast and it is usually better to pay a bit more for a printer that employs individual color ink cartridges so you can replace each color as required, Individual color cartridges usually have more ink than the tri-color cartridge so they'll last longer as well.

YOUR CARTRIDGES DOES NOT MEET YOUR PRINTING REQUIREMENTS:

Different printers and their cartridges are designed for diverse uses. Inkjet printers employ ink cartridges, which are best fitted for printing occasional photos, text and color images. Laser printers employ toner cartridges, which are ideal for printing text & color in high volumes, but don't print photos quite well. If your cartridge does not meet your printing requirements, you could spending more than you need to on replacements!
