Many Gynecologists are operating in Canada and it can make you a bit overwhelmed. Visiting a Gynecologist is a must-do job for women. However, make sure you are with someone you trust and the conversation just seems to come naturally. Undoubtedly, it is worth it to locate an OB-GYN who can make this process easier for you. You can easily have those awkward but important conversations and obtain tailored care.

Dr. David Gerber is an excellent, professional, and caring doctor. His sense of urgency and work principles are beyond excellent. He and the nurses always strive to make the patients feel safe, informed, and able to direct management recommendations. I am feeling happy that I led Doctor Gerber. He is so polite and helpful every step of the way. Everything is so organized and amazing to experience.

Gynecology is intricate due to the anatomy involved, past experiences, the angst of pre-cancer or cancer, not being able to be pregnant, the worry that age is overtaking plans and hopes, or that menopause is interfering with life, love, and relationships. This is why the nurses and physicians are there to properly communicate and help you. They will advocate for you and you are encouraged to give feedback at any time, especially if you are not feeling comfortable.

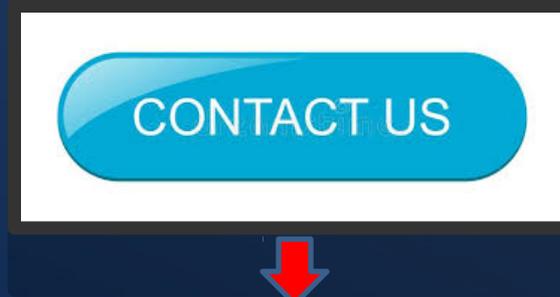

I must say that Dr. David Gerber has an excellent team. There is no other clinic in Canada that offers the variety of services they do. The entire team is so understanding and highly knowledgeable and experienced. All the patients will be offered an equal and superior standard of treatment.
